Jimmy Ha
User Interface & Web Development

herereadthis@gmail.com
571-335-6906

Facebook: /herereadthis
Twitter: @herereadthis
Flickr: applesanity
GitHub: herereadthis
Pinterest: herereadthis

SUMMARY

Front-end Django developer with particular specialties in user-interface design, responsive design, and mobile-ready sites. Has worked on and adapted to both large-scale, large-team corporate sites and single-developer, small offerings.

TECHNICAL EXPERTISE

Frameworks	Django (Python)
JavaScript	JQuery, CoffeeScript, Grunt, Handlebars.js, Modernizr.js, Backbone.js, Require.js
Standards	CSS3 (w/ Sass, LESS), HTML5, RDFa, JSON, XML
Versioning	Subversion, Git
Workflow	Trac, JIRA, Fisheye, Crucible, Agile/SCRUM
Graphics	Photoshop, Bridge, Lightroom, InDesign, Balsamiq, OmniGraffle

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Jun 2012 – Present

Library of Congress, with CACI
- Designed a Django-based service platform for hosting the digital collections of the LOC electronic repositories
- Implemented new branding and visual identity
- Led the creation of consumer-facing web applications utilizing dynamic JS templating
- Managed project development using Agile processes with constant user-acceptance testing

Jun 2010 – Jun 2012

National Geographic Society
- Django-templating for views used by producers
- Part of current codebase and CMS overhaul using latest technologies and best practices
- Integration of content with social media platforms
- Front-end design, user flow, and code templating for NatGeo contest engine applications
- Lead coder for re-launch of National Geographic Kids site

Mar 2008 – Jun 2010

Early Childhood Learning and Knowledge Center
- Principal/ majority front-end coder for current design of homepage, templates, and specialty pages
- Ensured cross-browser, Section 508, and IE6 compatibility
- Helped launched 45th anniversary program of Office of Head Start (OHS) with interactives

May 2007 – Mar 2008

The BOSS Group
Provided front-end design and development, consulting, and project management on a range of sites including:
- International Association of Fire Chiefs (IAFC), Health Industry Distributers Association (HIDA), Urban Institute Think Tank

EDUCATION

2002-2006

Columbia University, Industrial Engineering
- Information systems & technology, statistics, quality control, business management, accounting and finance, game theory, production & inventory control, human factors engineering